Program Overview: Old Times on the Grand Tour

The focus of this five-day program is the famous Grand Tour of Yellowstone. Traveling in a museum-quality historic vehicle, we'll enjoy a leisurely touring style that is reminiscent of the early twentieth century. We'll be traveling the roads of the world's first national park in a renovated 1930's White Motor Coach "yellow bus" accompanied by an expert Institute instructor. This program is designed to take advantage of the best sightseeing that Yellowstone has to offer, along a route that includes cultural and historical sites that tell a fascinating story of Yellowstone National Park. You will fully explore Yellowstone's geology and natural history, allowing ample opportunity for viewing wildlife, thermal features, and the changing of seasons in Yellowstone. We'll also see and discuss effects of climate change, as well as the park's efforts towards sustainability.

Each night you will stay in historic park areas: Mammoth Hot Springs, Old Faithful, and Yellowstone Lake. You will enjoy excellent meals, comfortable accommodations, and optional educational evening programs. All field activities will be conducted as a group. If you are not able to participate in the day's activities, please let your instructor know in advance.

What's Included?

Old Times on the Grand Tour includes instruction by an Institute instructor, in-park transportation throughout the program in an historic vehicle, five nights lodging, all breakfasts and lunches during full program days, one dinner with the instructor, as well as a gratuity for all prepaid meals. Any other gratuities, including gratuities for your instructor, are discretionary. The Mammoth Hotel Dining Room does not take reservations. Dinner reservations have been made for you at Old Faithful Inn and at Lake Yellowstone Hotel Dining Room for all other dinners.

We look forward to sharing Yellowstone with you!

How to prepare for this program

How fit do you need to be?

This program is rated for walks and hikes up to 3 miles per day with elevation gains of up to 600 feet. Some off-trail hiking is possible. This is the maximum distance; hikes are often shorter due to changing conditions and group ability. Due to walking at an elevation of 6000 to 7000 feet, we recommend you begin an exercise program right away if you have not already done so. Participants residing at lower elevations may want to arrive a day early to adjust to the altitude. To learn more about how specific medical conditions can be affected by Yellowstone's environment and our activities, please visit <http://bit.ly/1xx5H8K>.

General equipment and clothing list

Much of your time will be spent outdoors and all programs are held rain, snow, or shine. You should be prepared for a variety of mountain weather conditions and temperatures. Appropriate clothing, equipment, and footwear are very important. Spring, summer, and fall temperatures can range from below freezing in the mornings to 85 degrees Fahrenheit in the afternoons. The layered use of garments for protection against the wind, sun, and temperature extremes should guide your clothing choices. Loose-fitting layers allow you to maintain a comfortable and dry body as outside temperatures change, and as your own body temperature and moisture output changes with different levels of exertion. Some colder-weather items may not be needed in July or August, but please keep in mind that Yellowstone's weather is unpredictable.

Equipment:

Your instructor will be carrying a first aid kit, bear spray, and emergency communication device.

- Daypack, with enough capacity to carry extra clothes, water, lunch, camera, binoculars, field guides, etc.
- Water bottle, one-quart is the minimum. Camelback or similar hydration systems work well in summer but can freeze in winter.
- Sunglasses
- Sunscreen/lip protector. Sun at high altitude can burn unprotected skin quickly.
- Camera, binoculars.
- Notebook/pencil.
- Pocket hand and foot warmers—recommended November through May.
- Alarm Clock, so you're on time for the day's activities.
- Flashlight/Headlamp, a small light for walking to and from your cabin in the evenings and mornings.

Summer clothing:

- Insulating underwear, capilene, polypropylene, or similar wicking fabric.
- Mid-weight insulating layer, light, 200-weight synthetic fleece or wool shirt/pullover.
- Heavyweight insulating layer, wool, down, or heavy-weight fleece jacket, for less-active times.
- Waterproof and windproof outer layer, lightweight and breathable. Jackets and pants are recommended.
- Short-sleeve shirt, cotton is okay in summer, but synthetic wicking shirts are ideal.
- Pants, synthetic hiking pants, lightweight pile/fleece pants or tights or similar. Jeans are not recommended.
- Hats, both a brimmed sun hat and an insulating hat for cool weather.
- Gloves, lightweight glove liners and a pair of wool/fleece gloves or mittens.
- Socks, light wool or synthetic liner sock with heavier wool or synthetic outer sock. The inner-outer sock combination helps prevent blistering, wicks moisture, and reduces friction. Cotton socks do not wick moisture and are not recommended.
- Hiking boots that provide stability, traction, and comfort. Unless you've consistently hiked in athletic shoes, bring boots that provide ankle support.
- Off-duty shoes, sandals, athletic shoes, or other leisure footwear.

Code of Ethics

The Yellowstone Association Institute is committed to demonstrating a high standard of appropriate and ethical behavior in Yellowstone. As a participant in an Institute program, we ask you to adhere to the following Code of Ethics. In addition to the ethics highlighted below, the Institute abides by all National Park Service rules and regulations. We also practice Leave No Trace guidelines for traveling responsibly in the wilderness.

Observing wildlife: We will do our best to have as little impact on wildlife as possible. Animals will be observed from a distance, using high-powered spotting scopes to help keep our presence from affecting their behavior. Participants should not expect to get close-up photographs of wildlife. The Institute will adhere to National Park Service regulations by keeping a minimum distance of 25 yards from bison, elk, bighorn sheep, deer, moose, coyotes and nesting birds and 100 yards from bears and wolves. We will not entice wildlife with food, animal calls or any actions that change their behavior.

Leave what you find: It is illegal to remove natural or cultural artifacts (plants, animals, bones, rocks, etc.) from Yellowstone. Institute instructors have permission from the National Park Service to manipulate plants, rocks, bones, etc. for educational purposes and will return them to their natural positions and locations.

General etiquette: Institute groups will be considerate of other visitors and respect the quality of their experience. Voices and vehicle sounds carry great distances and affect both wildlife and people—remaining silent or very quiet while watching wildlife lets the sounds of Yellowstone (including wolf howls) prevail.

Roads and vehicles: Expect wildlife on the road, and drive at or below the posted park speed limits. When stopping to observe wildlife or other park features, the Institute will move vehicles entirely off the road. If there is no safe pullout available, we will drive to the next safe place and walk back to observe the wildlife. We will not stop in the middle of the road, and should a traffic jam develop as a result of our activities, we will cease the activity.

Properly dispose of waste: We will pack out all trash, leftover food, and litter. Your instructor will discuss techniques for properly disposing of human waste in the field.

Traveling lightly: When hiking or walking in Yellowstone, we will use existing trails and boardwalks. We will follow appropriate techniques when walking off-trail. Walking around muddy or wet places in the trail increases erosion and negatively affects the resource; proper equipment is essential to hiking ethically. Participants should come adequately prepared with the equipment listed for their course and should expect to walk through mud, snow or puddles in the trail.

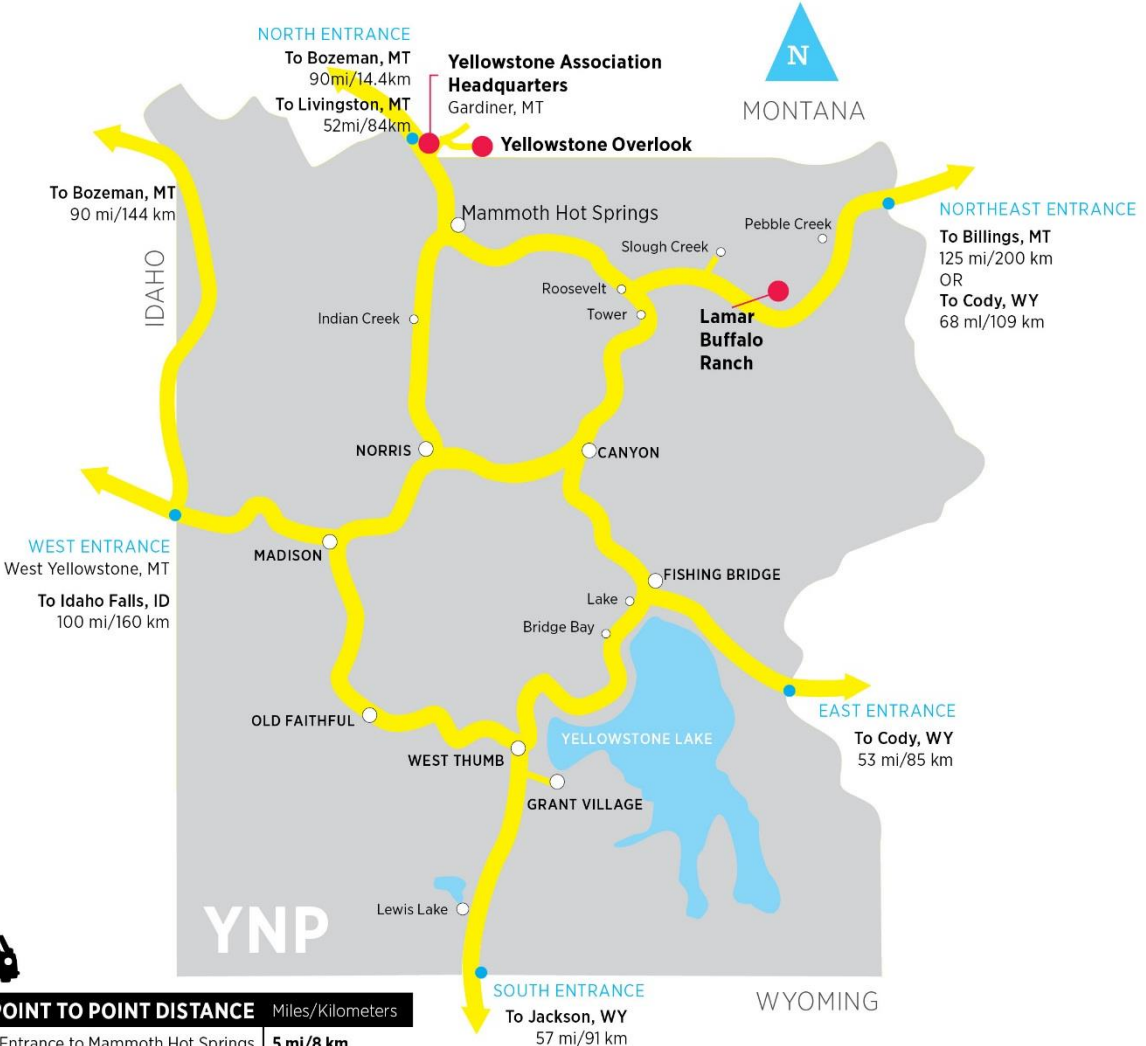

Thank you for helping us set a good example in Yellowstone!
