Program Overview: Yellowstone for Families

Designed for parents and children (ages 8-12) to enjoy together, this five-day family learning adventure features participatory games, exercises, and activities including animal tracking, wildlife watching, painting, and hiking. During the program, parents will help their children complete the requirements of the National Park Service's Junior Ranger Patch, and the week will end with the ceremonial presentation of Junior Ranger patches by a National Park Service Ranger. We'll also see and discuss effects of climate change, as well as the park's efforts towards sustainability.

There will be an experienced instructor leading all activities, but parents are expected to participate with their children. This is a great opportunity for parents and children to bond closely by sharing the joy and wonder that is Yellowstone. All field trips will be conducted as a group. If you are not able to participate in the day's activities, please let your instructor know in advance.

What's Included?

The Yellowstone for Families program includes instruction by a Yellowstone Forever Institute instructor, in-park transportation, three nights lodging at Mammoth Hot Springs, two nights lodging at Grant Village, all breakfasts and lunches during full program days, as well as a gratuity for all prepaid meals. Any other gratuities, including gratuities for your instructor, are discretionary. The Grant Village Dining Room seats guests by reservation only. If you did not make dinner reservations during registration and would like to do so, please contact Yellowstone National Park Lodges at 866.439.7375. Please allow more than one hour for your dinners. Fare is also available at the Terrace Grill or the Mammoth Hotel Dining Room in Mammoth or at the Lake House in Grant village, which is first come, first served.

How to prepare for this program

How fit do you need to be?

This program is rated for walks and hikes up to 3 miles per day with elevation gains of up to 600 feet. Some off-trail hiking is possible. This is the maximum distance; hikes are often shorter due to changing conditions and group ability. Due to walking at an elevation of 6000 to 7000 feet, we recommend you begin an exercise program right away if you have not already done so. Participants residing at lower elevations may want to arrive a day early to adjust to the altitude. To learn more about how specific medical conditions can be affected by Yellowstone's environment and our activities, please visit Yellowstone.org/experience/health-information/.

General equipment and clothing list

Much of your time will be spent outdoors and all programs are held rain, snow, or shine. You should be prepared for a variety of mountain weather conditions and temperatures. Appropriate clothing, equipment, and footwear are very important. Spring, summer, and fall temperatures can range from below freezing in the mornings to 85 degrees Fahrenheit in the afternoons. The layered use of garments for protection against the wind, sun, and temperature extremes should guide your clothing choices. Loose-fitting layers allow you to maintain a comfortable and dry body as outside temperatures change, and as your own body temperature and moisture output changes with different levels of exertion. Some colder-weather items may not be needed in July or August, but please keep in mind that Yellowstone's weather is unpredictable.

Equipment:

Your instructor will be carrying a first aid kit, bear spray, and emergency communication device.

Daypack, with enough capacity to carry extra clothes, water, lunch, camera, binoculars, field guides, etc.
Water bottle, one-quart is the minimum. Camelback or similar hydration systems work well in summer but can freeze in winter.
Sunglasses

	Sunscreen/lip protector. Sun at high altitude can burn unprotected skin quickly.
	Camera, binoculars.
	Notebook/pencil.
	Pocket hand and foot warmers—recommended November through May.
	Alarm Clock, so you're on time for the day's activities.
	Flashlight/Headlamp , a small light for walking to and from your cabin in the evenings and mornings.
Su	mmer clothing:
	Insulating underwear, capilene, polypropylene, or similar wicking fabric.
	Mid-weight insulating layer, light, 200-weight synthetic fleece or wool shirt/pullover.
	Heavyweight insulating layer, wool, down, or heavy-weight fleece jacket, for less-active times.
	Waterproof and windproof outer layer, lightweight and breathable. Jackets and pants are recommended.
	Short-sleeve shirt , cotton is okay in summer, but synthetic wicking shirts are ideal.
	Pants , synthetic hiking pants, lightweight pile/fleece pants or tights or similar. Jeans are not recommended.
	Hats, both a brimmed sun hat and an insulating hat for cool weather.
	Gloves, lightweight glove liners and a pair of wool/fleece gloves or mittens.
	Socks , light wool or synthetic liner sock with heavier wool or synthetic outer sock. The inner-outer sock combination helps prevent blistering, wicks moisture, and reduces friction. Cotton socks do not wick moisture and are not recommended.
	Hiking boots that provide stability, traction, and comfort. Unless you've consistently hiked in athletic shoes, bring boots that provide ankle support.
	Off-duty shoes, sandals, athletic shoes, or other leisure footwear.

Code of Ethics

The Yellowstone Forever Institute is committed to demonstrating a high standard of appropriate and ethical behavior in Yellowstone. As a participant in a Yellowstone Forever Institute program, we ask you to adhere to the following Code of Ethics. In addition to the ethics highlighted below, the Yellowstone Forever Institute abides by all National Park Service rules and regulations. We also practice Leave No Trace guidelines for traveling responsibly in the wilderness.

Observing wildlife: We will do our best to have as little impact on wildlife as possible. Animals will be observed from a distance, using high-powered spotting scopes to help keep our presence from affecting their behavior. Participants should not expect to get close-up photographs of wildlife. The Yellowstone Forever Institute will adhere to National Park Service regulations by keeping a minimum distance of 25 yards from bison, elk, bighorn sheep, deer, moose, coyotes and nesting birds and 100 yards from bears and wolves. We will not entice wildlife with food, animal calls or any actions that change their behavior.

Leave what you find: It is illegal to remove natural or cultural artifacts (plants, animals, bones, rocks, etc.) from Yellowstone. Yellowstone Forever Institute instructors have permission from the National Park Service to manipulate plants, rocks, bones, etc. for educational purposes and will return them to their natural positions and locations.

General etiquette: Yellowstone Forever Institute groups will be considerate of other visitors and respect the quality of their experience. Voices and vehicle sounds carry great distances and affect both wildlife and people—remaining silent or very quiet while watching wildlife lets the sounds of Yellowstone (including wolf howls) prevail.

Roads and vehicles: Expect wildlife on the road, and drive at or below the posted park speed limits. When stopping to observe wildlife or other park features, the Yellowstone Forever Institute will move vehicles entirely off the road. If there is no safe pullout available, we will drive to the next safe place and walk back to observe the wildlife. We will not stop in the middle of the road, and should a traffic jam develop as a result of our activities, we will cease the activity.

Properly dispose of waste: We will pack out all trash, leftover food, and litter. Your instructor will discuss techniques for properly disposing of human waste in the field.

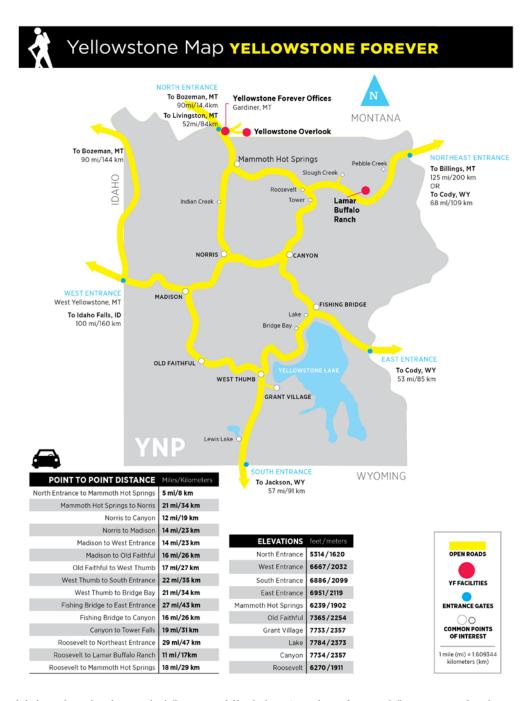

EXPERIENCE IT TODAY | PRESERVE IT FOR ALWAYS

Traveling lightly: When hiking or walking in Yellowstone, we will use existing trails and boardwalks. We will follow appropriate techniques when walking off-trail. Walking around muddy or wet places in the trail increases erosion and negatively affects the resource; proper equipment is essential to hiking ethically. Participants should come adequately prepared with the equipment listed for their program and should expect to walk through mud, snow or puddles in the trail.

Thank you for helping us set a good example in Yellowstone!
