Welcome to Yellowstone National Park. If you are a newcomer to Institute programs, you will be amazed at what awaits you during each day of exploration. If you are a veteran of our programs, you will know the many perspectives from which learning can take place in this diverse place. Since its inception in 1976, the Institute has evolved into a respected field school that offers diverse and in-depth study of the Yellowstone area, bringing back participants year after year. We are glad that you are able to join us. As Yellowstone National Park's primary nonprofit partner in education, our goal is to provide you with an enjoyable, high-quality educational experience and an exciting and memorable visit to Yellowstone.

The following information is provided to help you prepare for your program. Please read it thoroughly and call us at 406.848.2400 or email registrar@yellowstoneassociation.org if you have any questions. We recommend that first-time visitors seek general park information through the National Park Service at 307.344.2107 or www.nps.gov/yell.

To participate in this program, each participant must fill out and sign our health questionnaire and assumption of risk waiver. Registrants receive a link to this form in their confirmation letter which is sent via e-mail. These forms must be completed and returned at least 30 days prior to your program start date.

Program Overview: Yellowstone Summer Expedition

The focus of this five-day program will be getting off the “beaten path,” and exploring the world's first national park in exciting new ways. You'll be staying in secluded lodging located at Canyon Lodge, which will serve as a central base camp for the program's daily adventures. Daily explorations will include Old Faithful area geyser basin hikes, wildlife watching along the northern range, a custom boat tour on Yellowstone Lake with a stop at Frank Island, and backcountry hiking along the Grand Canyon of the Yellowstone. Along the way, your instructor will share in-depth information on Yellowstone's history, management, geology, flora, and fauna. We'll also see and discuss effects of climate change, as well as the park's efforts towards sustainability. There will be ample opportunity to relax, enjoy each other's company, and relish the true wildness of Yellowstone.

Each evening you will return to excellent meals and comfortable accommodations at Canyon Lodge. All field activities will be conducted as a group. If you are not able to participate in the day's activities, please let your instructor know in advance.

What's Included?

Yellowstone Summer Expedition includes instruction by an Institute instructor, in-park transportation, five nights lodging at Canyon Lodge, all breakfasts and lunches during full program days, one dinner with the instructor, as well as a gratuity for all prepaid meals. Any other gratuities, including gratuities for your instructor, are discretionary. Seating for dinner in the Canyon Lodge Dining Room and the Canyon Lodge Cafeteria is on a first-come, first-served basis.

We look forward to sharing Yellowstone with you!

How to prepare for this program

How fit do you need to be?

This program is rated for brisk hikes up to 5 miles per day with occasional elevation gains up to 1,000 feet on undulating terrain. This is the maximum distance. Good coordination is recommended. Hiking is a rigorous activity, demanding on leg and back muscles, and aerobic in nature. Due to walking at an elevation of 6000 to 7000 feet, we recommend you begin an exercise program right away if you have not already done so. Participants residing at lower elevations may want to arrive a day early to adjust to the altitude. To learn more about how specific medical conditions can be affected by Yellowstone's environment and our activities, please visit <http://bit.ly/1xx5H8K>.

General equipment and clothing list

Much of your time will be spent outdoors and all programs are held rain, snow, or shine. You should be prepared for a variety of mountain weather conditions and temperatures. Appropriate clothing, equipment, and footwear are very important. Spring, summer, and fall temperatures can range from below freezing in the mornings to 85 degrees Fahrenheit in the afternoons. The layered use of garments for protection against the wind, sun, and temperature extremes should guide your clothing choices. Loose-fitting layers allow you to maintain a comfortable and dry body as outside temperatures change, and as your own body temperature and moisture output changes with different levels of exertion. Some colder-weather items may not be needed in July or August, but please keep in mind that Yellowstone's weather is unpredictable.

Equipment:

Your instructor will be carrying a first aid kit, bear spray, and emergency communication device.

- ☐ Daypack, with enough capacity to carry extra clothes, water, lunch, camera, binoculars, field guides, etc.
- ☐ Water bottle, one-quart is the minimum. Camelback or similar hydration systems work well in summer but can freeze in winter.
- ☐ Sunglasses
- ☐ Sunscreen/lip protector. Sun at high altitude can burn unprotected skin quickly.
- ☐ Camera, binoculars.
- ☐ Notebook/pencil.
- ☐ Pocket hand and foot warmers—recommended November through May.
- ☐ Alarm Clock, so you're on time for the day's activities.
- ☐ Flashlight/Headlamp, a small light for walking to and from your cabin in the evenings and mornings.

Summer clothing:

- ☐ Insulating underwear, capilene, polypropylene, or similar wicking fabric.
- ☐ Mid-weight insulating layer, light, 200-weight synthetic fleece or wool shirt/pullover.
- ☐ Heavyweight insulating layer, wool, down, or heavy-weight fleece jacket, for less-active times.
- ☐ Waterproof and windproof outer layer, lightweight and breathable. Jackets and pants are recommended.
- ☐ Short-sleeve shirt, cotton is okay in summer, but synthetic wicking shirts are ideal.
- ☐ Pants, synthetic hiking pants, lightweight pile/fleece pants or tights or similar. Jeans are not recommended.
- ☐ Hats, both a brimmed sun hat and an insulating hat for cool weather.
- ☐ Gloves, lightweight glove liners and a pair of wool/fleece gloves or mittens.
- ☐ Socks, light wool or synthetic liner sock with heavier wool or synthetic outer sock. The inner-outer sock combination helps prevent blistering, wicks moisture, and reduces friction. Cotton socks do not wick moisture and are not recommended.
- ☐ Hiking boots that provide stability, traction, and comfort. Unless you've consistently hiked in athletic shoes, bring boots that provide ankle support.
- ☐ Off-duty shoes, sandals, athletic shoes, or other leisure footwear.

Code of Ethics

The Yellowstone Association Institute is committed to demonstrating a high standard of appropriate and ethical behavior in Yellowstone. As a participant in an Institute program, we ask you to adhere to the following Code of Ethics. In addition to the ethics highlighted below, the Institute abides by all National Park Service rules and regulations. We also practice Leave No Trace guidelines for traveling responsibly in the wilderness.

Observing wildlife: We will do our best to have as little impact on wildlife as possible. Animals will be observed from a distance, using high-powered spotting scopes to help keep our presence from affecting their behavior. Participants should not expect to get close-up photographs of wildlife. The Institute will adhere to National Park Service regulations by keeping a minimum distance of 25 yards from bison, elk, bighorn sheep, deer, moose, coyotes and nesting birds and 100 yards from bears and wolves. We will not entice wildlife with food, animal calls or any actions that change their behavior.

Leave what you find: It is illegal to remove natural or cultural artifacts (plants, animals, bones, rocks, etc.) from Yellowstone. Institute instructors have permission from the National Park Service to manipulate plants, rocks, bones, etc. for educational purposes and will return them to their natural positions and locations.

General etiquette: Institute groups will be considerate of other visitors and respect the quality of their experience. Voices and vehicle sounds carry great distances and affect both wildlife and people—remaining silent or very quiet while watching wildlife lets the sounds of Yellowstone (including wolf howls) prevail.

Roads and vehicles: Expect wildlife on the road, and drive at or below the posted park speed limits. When stopping to observe wildlife or other park features, the Institute will move vehicles entirely off the road. If there is no safe pullout available, we will drive to the next safe place and walk back to observe the wildlife. We will not stop in the middle of the road, and should a traffic jam develop as a result of our activities, we will cease the activity.

Properly dispose of waste: We will pack out all trash, leftover food, and litter. Your instructor will discuss techniques for properly disposing of human waste in the field.

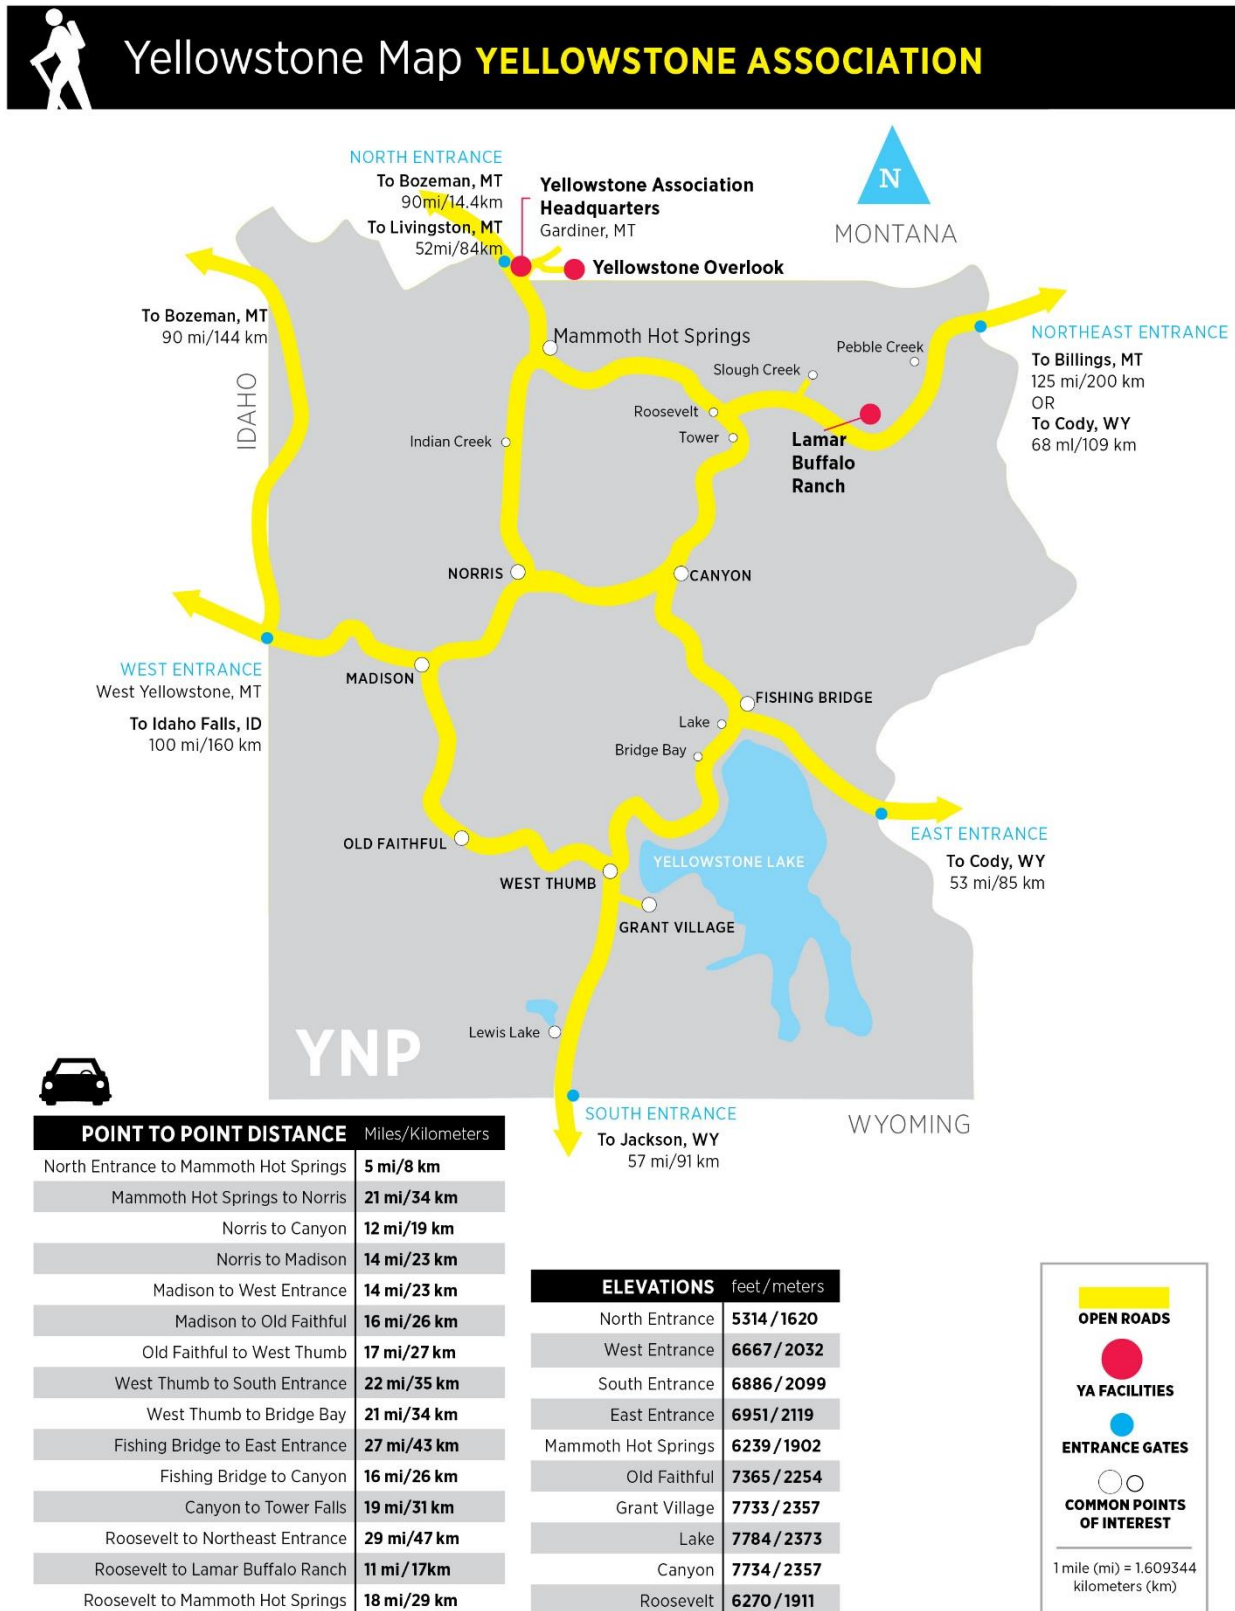

Traveling lightly: When hiking or walking in Yellowstone, we will use existing trails and boardwalks. We will follow appropriate techniques when walking off-trail. Walking around muddy or wet places in the trail increases erosion and negatively affects the resource; proper equipment is essential to hiking ethically. Participants should come adequately prepared with the equipment listed for their course and should expect to walk through mud, snow or puddles in the trail.

Thank you for helping us set a good example in Yellowstone!

Cancellation and Refund Policy

For packages, 60-day notice is required to receive a full refund of your deposit amount. Cancellations made between 30-60 days will result in 50% forfeiture of package cost. Cancellations made within 30 days of arrival result in 100% forfeiture of package cost. We recommend the purchase of travel insurance to help protect you against financial loss if you must cancel or interrupt your trip due to unforeseen circumstances. For more information about travel insurance, please ask our representative when booking your reservation.

Travel Information

Plan on extra driving time in the park. The speed limit is 45 mph or lower. There may also be construction delays. Visit www.nps.gov/yell/planyourvisit/hours.htm, call the recorded NPS Road Report at 307.344.2117, or contact a visitor center for up-to-date travel information.
